WELCOME

It is the tradition in Trinity College Dublin that newly appointed Professors are invited to give an inaugural lecture. The lecture represents the official recognition of their promotion to Professor, and it is an opportunity to showcase their research, innovation, engagement, and teaching activities. The lecture itself provides an opportunity to highlight their achievements before an audience of members of the University community, invited stakeholders, and the general public. An inaugural lecture is a significant event in an academic staff member’s career.

In Trinity College Dublin, inaugural lectures are a ceremonial occasion, academic robes are worn by the inaugural professor and the rest of the platform party. The Faculty of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences is proud to present the inaugural lecture of Professor Ruth Karras.

SEX, VIOLENCE, EXCLUSION: THE SHAPE OF MASCULINE EXPECTATIONS IN MEDIEVAL EUROPE

Professor Ruth Mazo Karras
Lecky Professor of History
B.A. (YALE), M.A., M.PHIL. (OXON. YALE), PH.D. (YALE)
How can we study masculinity across cultures? This lecture proposes to identify areas of human experience of reproduction. While the clergy did not in fact abstain excluded from expectations in the area of prowess and elite class of men—in charge of learning, worship, and masculinity both in the sin and in overcoming it. The Christ, or sinful but then repentant and demonstrating which men could be either virtuous in the imitation of masculinity and feminine behaviour, and then examine how in which societies typically have expectations for men... How can we study masculinity across cultures? This lecture proposes to identify areas of human experience of reproduction. While the clergy did not in fact abstain excluded from expectations in the area of prowess and elite class of men—in charge of learning, worship, and masculinity both in the sin and in overcoming it. The Christ, or sinful but then repentant and demonstrating which men could be either virtuous in the imitation of masculinity and feminine behaviour, and then examine how in which societies typically have expectations for men... How can we study masculinity across cultures? This lecture proposes to identify areas of human experience of reproduction. While the clergy did not in fact abstain excluded from expectations in the area of prowess and elite class of men—in charge of learning, worship, and masculinity both in the sin and in overcoming it. The Christ, or sinful but then repentant and demonstrating which men could be either virtuous in the imitation of masculinity and feminine behaviour, and then examine how in which societies typically have expectations for men... How can we study masculinity across cultures? This lecture proposes to identify areas of human experience of reproduction. While the clergy did not in fact abstain excluded from expectations in the area of prowess and elite class of men—in charge of learning, worship, and masculinity both in the sin and in overcoming it. The Christ, or sinful but then repentant and demonstrating which men could be either virtuous in the imitation of masculinity and feminine behaviour, and then examine how in which societies typically have expectations for men...